

Dear Stellar

My wife and I had a pub meal last Wednesday night at The Antelope in London, and I took pot luck from their specials wine list - Stellar Organic Shiraz (and I don't remember the price - for 250ml - or the year)

I was so impressed by the wine, that I went back to the bar for more info; I thought it might have been Australian, but had not ruled out a SA origin because of the match with my own taste. I had a look at the bottle, and you know the rest!

Will be conducting a tour of all Woolworths to firm up supplies.

Regards

Cedric
